THE CHAMPIONS

This exclusive championship golf course brings together for the first time three of the greatest names in the game—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player. The vision and architectural talents of these three unrivaled champions promise an exceptional golfing experience for the club's limited membership.

ARNOLD PALMER

NINE - ISLAND

From Arnold Palmer we have a two hundred and eighty acre island with miles of Savannah River shoreline to provide just the right feeling of seclusion.

The Savannah River and the Little River surround Palmer's Island property design. This course has magnificent natural hardwoods that gently reveal striking views of the Savannah River. Palmer used his legendary flare to create a truly memorable course.

JACK NICKLAUS

NINE - BLUFF

The Bluffs offered by the nine holes from Jack Nicklaus give you the sense of being on higher elevations in the Midwest.

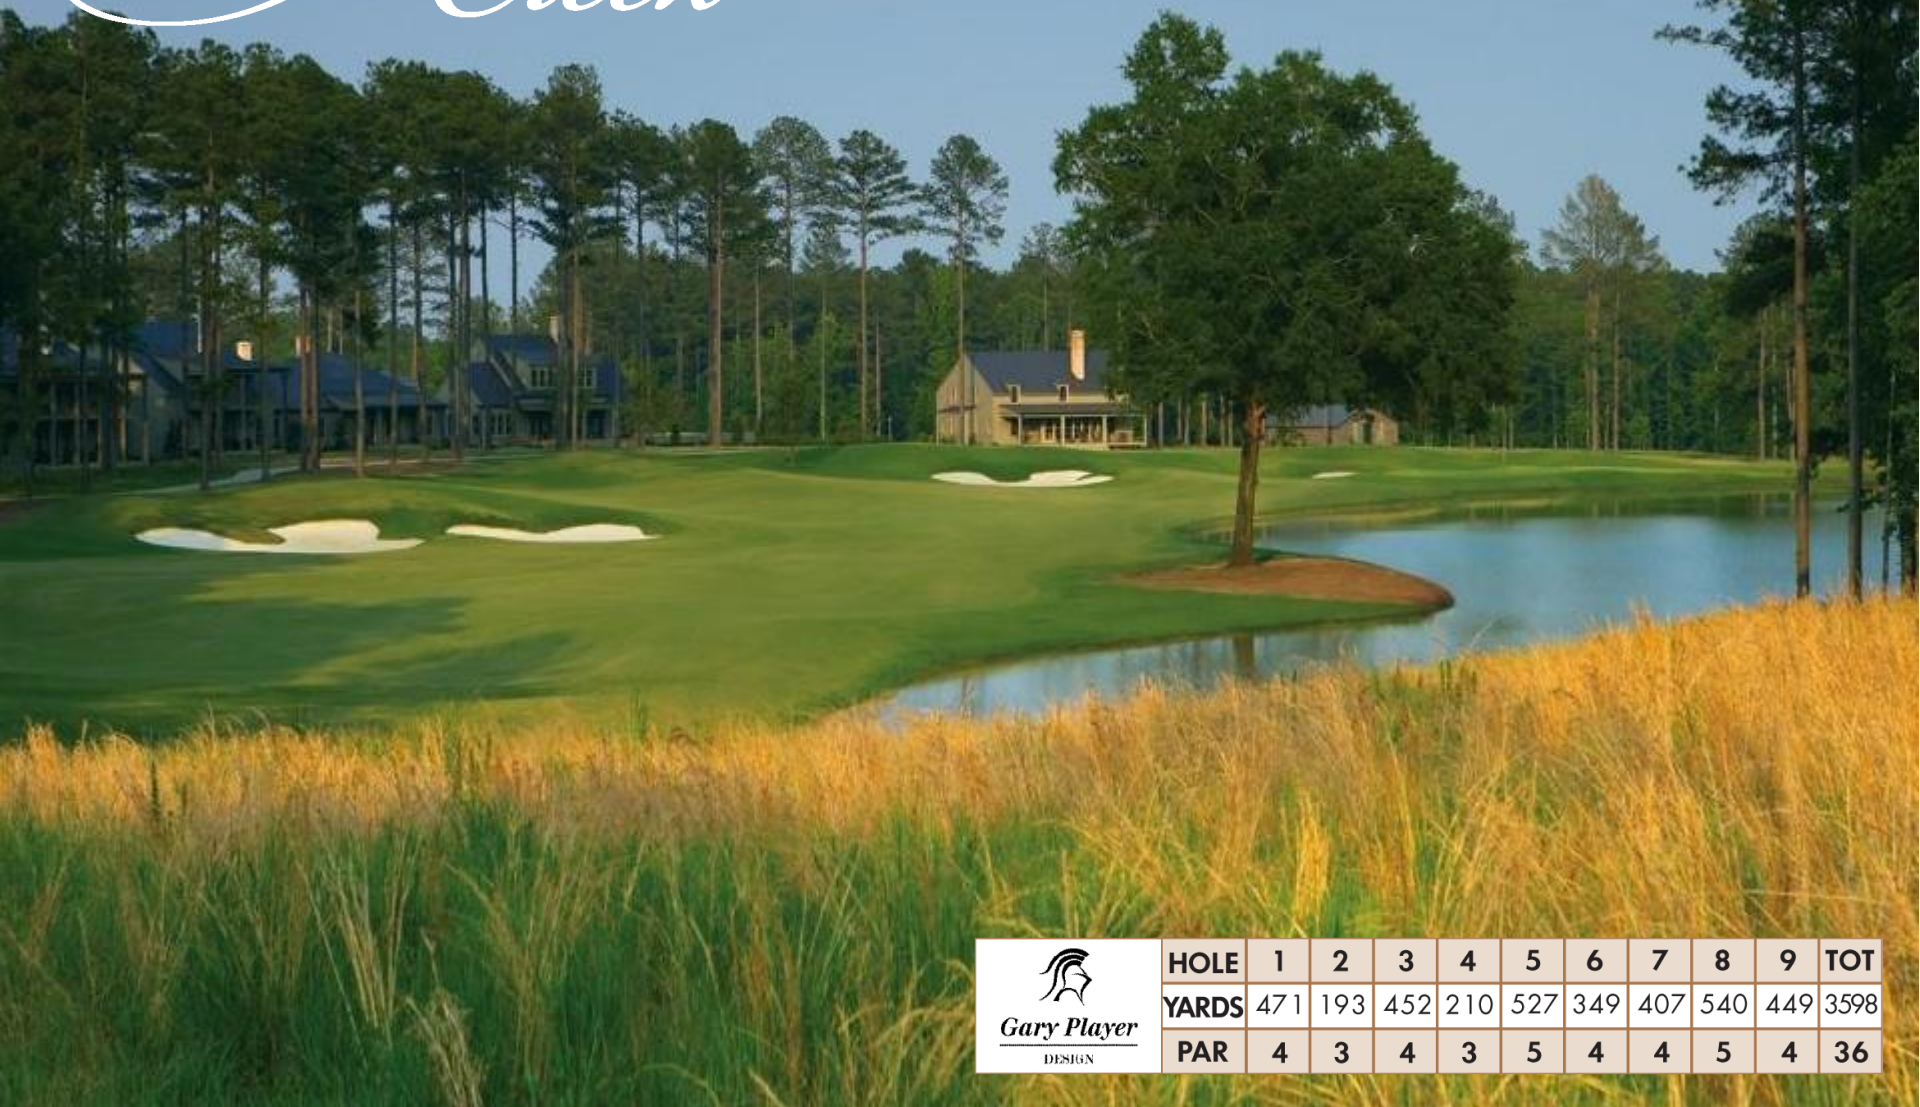

The Golden Bear took advantage of softly rolling hills, exciting elevation changes and a keen sense of naturalism to design his nine thrilling holes on the Bluff property.

Bluff #4

GARY PLAYER

NINE - CREEK

The nine holes from Gary Player offer a glimpse of the not-so-distant coast with the low country marshes of Euchee Creek.

If you're looking for a truly significant experience, then engaging the first few holes of Player's Creek property will provoke daydreams of playing a marshland course in the low country.

The last few holes meander through larger-than-life hardwoods and pine trees, much like playing in Pinehurst, North Carolina. Player took advantage of these distinct elements to build a testing course that is satisfying to play, time after time.
